NCEA RESOURCES

The New Zealand Dance Company has created two NCEA Resources that are available for purchase. These are based on carefully selected sections of Shona McCullagh's Rotunda and Trees, Birds Then People. Rotunda observes the centenary of the First World War and Trees, Birds then People is a remarkable piece with music by Gareth Farr, featured in our performance Language of Living. Both resources offer rich models of choreography and performance.

Visit www.nzdc.org.nz to purchase a Rotunda or Trees, Birds then People resource, or for online access visit www.movitae.com.

"We have found the Trees, Birds then People resource to be very comprehensive and thorough, with the interviews and student workbook providing all the revision work they need in preparation for exams. I love that it has the full dance performance on it, as well as the NCEA excerpt. We have used it for the last two years and I have been impressed with the depth of student's understanding of the work. This has also been a valuable timesaver for myself, and allows me to focus my energies on developing class activities to compliment the resource." Juliet Cryns, Takapuna Grammar

YEP! AUCKLAND SCHOOL WORKSHOPS

The New Zealand Dance Company is available to present workshops at your Auckland region school. Our company dancers will come to your school and present a workshop that engages all students. A school workshop is bespoke to your brief and your students.

Check our website regularly throughout the year for dates that the company dancers are available for bookings.

YEP! SEASONAL SCHOOLS

"What was most powerful was the generosity of the entire dance company in working with us. It was very positive for all of us I felt, watching them work as a team. I realise this was a very unique opportunity and feel very lucky to have been in among all of that talent..."
- 2015 Auckland Autumn School participant

Immerse yourself in a week of high energy, high fun, movement and dance. Each school holidays, The New Zealand Dance Company opens the doors for students and teachers to spend a week with the company. Through full days of classes and sessions, participants will extend their dance skills in improvisation, partnering, devising and exploration into contemporary dance. Each seasonal school has a different feel to it - check our website and look out for our regular updates. This week always finishes with a performance showcase of the week's work.

"Ground-breaking... Extraordinary... Hypnotic..."

"I was blown away with how beautiful the show was. The skill of the dancers has given me a new appreciation of the human body and the stories it can tell. Thank you for sharing your stories, your music and your lights. Your visions are amazing." Lumina Audience Member

"Our students had an amazing experience. This was something completely new to most of them. The response was overwhelming and students were talking about it for days afterwards... The pupils and the teachers both considered it to be an impressive and professional show... It had humour, which surprised everyone and got all very engaged. Once they were engaged they were able to appreciate the skill and talent of the performers." Testimonial from Nigel Bennet's, Rodney College (Performance of Language of Living at the school).

The New Zealand Dance Company's Youth Engagement Programme.

The New Zealand Dance Company's Youth Engagement Programme (YEP!) has been actively creating opportunities and mentoring for young people to get hooked in to dance since 2012. Engaging and connecting with young people is a priority of ours because dance is the beautifully truthful language of living. Dance allows young people to break through personal barriers and helps them learn how they can relate better to themselves, others and the world. We believe young people are active contributing members of our society now, not future participants.

The New Zealand Dance Company offers your students, your dancers, your school and teachers a wide range of diverse opportunities to engage with dance in 2016. From workshops in your schools to live performances, from seasonal holiday schools and to NCEA resources, NZDC can offer you a wide range of activities that everyone can connect with.
